HOLLAND CITY.

1893 and 1894 have been "calamity years" for real estate and all kinds of business, but the sun has broken through the clouds and brighter days are dawning. Holland during the late financial cyclone has grown faster than any other Michigan city and real estate has held its value.

THE GOLDEN OPPORTUNITY for getting the advance in real estate, which must result from new business blocks, new factories, new men and better times in my judgment has arrived. Dr. A. C. Van Raalte after the "great fire" when our people were passing through great trials, said:—"Some day a large city would grow up here at the head of Black Lake and then I will eventually be thankful for selecting this site for a large city." The language was prophetic.

What a Picnic

The residents of Holland and surrounding country are having that they can walk right into an up-to-date

DRY GOODS STORE

and get a selection from an entire new and fresh stock of goods at less prices than they are asked to pay for old goods elsewhere. Our stock may not be as large as that of some other stores (and we calculate to keep our stock that way) but wouldn't you rather look over 20 pieces of New Dress Goods than to have them show 30 pieces and over half of them be

OLD CHESTNUTS?

You form your own conclusions. There is scarcely a day goes by but what we have goods coming in by freight or express, in this way we can show you new goods nearly every day of the week. We rather keep busy all the time and keep on turning our stock over often at a small profit than to ask big profits and keep the goods on the shelf. It means better results to the proprietor and is certainly a big advantage to the public. We want to remind you once more that nowhere can you find such values in BLACK HENRIETTAS as at

JOHN VANDERSLUIS.

The steamer Mabel Bradshaw has been taken off the Holland & Chicago route and will leave Sunday for Pentwater where she will run to Whitehall, Montague and Chicago. Mrs. B. J. De Vries, mother of Dr. B. J. De Vries and Mrs. A. C. Keppel of this city, died at her home at Grand Rapids Monday. The funeral will be held today at Grand Rapids and the interment will take place at N. Groningen.

Among those who are building or have completed cottages at Macatawa Park are Rev. J. W. Allen of Chicago, Rev. J. H. Garrison of St. Louis, Rev. E. A. Adams of Chicago, J. C. Post, Holland, (2), H. H. Idema of Grand Rapids, and Wm. Horner of Grand Rapids. Many improvements are being made by cottage and property owners there.

While in almost every line Holland is making rapid improvements, old wooden structures are giving way to elegant brick and stone blocks and the spirit of progress has taken firm hold, the depot still remains the same—a structure which the city has far outgrown. What it needs is a modern stone or brick building of good dimensions, surrounded by a handsome lawn and flower beds. Smaller cities than Holland have often very fine depots, why not Holland? The Chicago & West Michigan R'y officials can depend upon it that our citizens will appreciate such a move.

HOLLAND, MICH., FRIDAY, MAY 31, 1896.

Jones & Laughlin, rivals of the Carnegie company, announce a raise of 10 per cent in the wages of their 4,000 employees. The Carnegie company have given notice that it will advance the price of the wages of its 25,000 employes on the 1st of June. All kinds of business is in the boom.

Secretary Lamont, who has been a good deal in New York during the last ten days, says the signs of business revival in Gotham are unmistakable.—
"Prominent bankers and merchants of New York tell me," says Mr. Lamont,
"that they are convinced more business is to be done this year than any other year in two decades."

Those who believe that either high or low tariffs have anything to do with the price of wheat should make a note of the fact that on August 28, 1894, the date when the Wilson tariff was passed, the price of wheat in the Grand Rapids market was quoted at 47 cents per bushel, and that this morning the price of wheat in the same market is quoted at 84 cents per bushel.

It cost the British government for the 12 months ending April 1, $450,000,000 to run itself and its income was $455,- 000,000. For the coming year the expenditures will be $561,000,000, of which $65,000,000 is for torpedo boats, war vessels and the like. Our national machine costs just about $500,000,000 a year, and the state machines as much more,
making a total of $1,000,000,000 a year
it costs to be governed in this country.
The state machines have got to be financial nuisances.—Jackson Patriot.

Some of the newspapers have been doing Banking Commissioner Sherwood an injustice in attempting to reproduce
what he said at Grand Rapids recently about the business outlook. What he is represented as saying is, "I prophesy that the next year will be a better business year than this generation has witnessed." What he really said was: "I prophesy that the next ten years will be better business years than this generation has witnessed, and base my prediction on the effects of the panics of former times, especially that of 1873.—

If John Donovan's interchangeable railroad mileage book bill becomes a law, there will not be a traveling salesman or an employer of traveling salesmen in the United States who will not feel like thanking him. Interchangeable mileage books are a concession which the traveling men and their employers have often requested from railroads.
By the use of interchangeable books the necessity of buying two or three, or four or in some instances more books would be obviated and the money thus locked up might be kept in its legitimate work in the business.—Grand Rapids Herald.

THE CHICAGO CHRONICLE.

The Chicago Chronicle, the new democratic daily, made its first appearance Tuesday. In regard to the currency question it says: "A firm believer in the old time democratic doctrine of hard and sound money, it will give to the important question of the currency full, free and fair discussion, the sole aim of which will be the ascertainment of the truth and the preservation and perpetuation of the public credit."

A GREAT MAN GONE.

Death has invaded the cabinet of President Cleveland and removed the distinguished head of the state department. Causes conspire to make the loss of Secretary Gresham more keenly felt at this time than it would have been at any previous period of his honorable career. Our foreign relations are more complicated than they have before been since the war, and there is needed for their amicable adjustment the sound judgment, the profound knowledge of international law and the true patriotism which he brought to the delicate task. In the shadow of death this seems a selfish consideration to suggest itself,
but many years of Judge Gresham's life were spent in the service of his country and it is through his public life that he won the high confidence and the great esteem which he enjoyed in his last and most exacting office.

History will do justice to the dead soldier and statesman. Much of the harsh criticism to which he was subjected sprang from the bitterness of political antagonisms and many things have been said of him for political effect that were not believed by those that gave them utterance. His whole history is a refutation of the idea that he ever surrendered his conviction at the suggestion of policy or ambition. As a lawyer he was a leader among those who honor a noble profession, having a clientage such as ability and unswerving integrity can alone attract. As a judge he took the highest rank. Early in the war he resigned a position in the legislature of his state, left his practice, entered the army as a lieutenant, fought with the same energy that won him laurels
in his civil life, was seriously wounded in front of Atlanta, and by well-earned promotions left the service
a brigadier-general.

It was President Grant who made
Gen. Gresham a United States judge.
He was chosen Postmaster General by President Arthur, and upon the death of Secretary Folger was transferred to the treasury portfolio. Such recognition from such men shows the estimation in which he was held by those who best knew and could best judge of his merits. His patriotism stood the crucial test of war. His statesmanship has the indorsement of those whom the people called to the proudest and most responsible position within their gift. It is true that Judge Gresham left the party with which he had so long served but in so doing he only emphasized that sturdy loyalty to conviction which dominated his character and guided his entire career. He was a great man in the truest, fullest sense of the term and the nation that grieves his loss will come to a fuller appreciation of the fact as time quiets the unworthy promptings of prejudice. There can be no higher praise than in the fact that throughout his life he yielded implicit obedience to an enlightened conscience.—Free Press.

THIS IS A PROGRESSIVE AGE.

FOR SALE BY HENRY WALSH, HOLLAND, MICH.

IN MEMORY OF OUR VETERANS.

The Men Who Fought for the Stars and Stripes.

Yesterday dawned fair and bright but warm and it brought in many from the surrounding country to take part in the exercises of the day. Shortly after one o'clock the procession began to form on Eighth street at the corner of River. The officers of the day were; President, Mayor G. J. Diekema; chaplain, Rev. J. Van der Meulen, D. D.; orator, Hon. Edward Cahill; marshal, G. J. Van Duren; assistant marshals, Albert Keppel and William Kellogg.

The order of the procession was as follows:

John Kramer Camp Sons of Veterans.

The Public Schools.
Young ladies with flowers and decorations.

Students of Hope college.
Fire department.

City officials.
Holland martial band.

A. C. Van Raalte Post G. A. R. and veterans.

Women's Relief Corps.
Officials of the day.

Citizens.

A great deal of taste was displayed in the decorations in procession. The program at the grove drew a large crowd and was as follows:

Music.

Opening remarks by the president of the day.

Prayer by the chaplain.
Vocal music.

Oration by Hon. Edward Cahill.
Vocal music.

The procession then formed in line and marched to Pilgrim Home cemetery where the following order of exercises was observed:

Decoration of graves by the ladies.

Decoration of grave of Rev. A. C. Van Raalte, D. D., by G. A. R. and veterans.

Decoration of slab in memory of the absent dead.

Song—"Tribute to our Patriot Brave," by chorus of twenty-five little girls.

Roll of honor.
Remarks by Mayor Diekema.

Song—"America."
Benediction.

The exercises all came off without any hitch, thanks to the different committees having the work in charge. The decorators outnumbered those of previous years. The oration at the grove by Hon. Edwin Cahill of Lansing was quite a stirring address.

After the exercises the decorators were driven to the Y. M. C. hall where they were treated to ice cream and fruit. Bunting and flags draped many of our business houses during the day and general interest was exhibited in paying a tribute to the memory of our departed heroes.

In case a different day is chosen notice will be given in due time. The visitors will number at least two hundred, and through the courtesy of general manager Heald of the Chicago & West Michigan R.R., a special train will be provided for the party. The party will leave here for Grand Rapids at 5 p. m. The visit of this party to our handsome city will be an event of considerable importance, and it would not be amiss for our business men and citizens to show their appreciation by decorating their business blocks and residences. Let our visitors return home with a good opinion of our city and its inhabitants. Hope College and the Western Theological Seminary are institutions of which Holland can justly be proud and we should not fail to give their friends a hearty welcome.

Should be Looked Into.

THOROUGH INVESTIGATION REQUESTED.

A BOLD ASSERTION.

Ever since Prof. Koch startled the world by promising to cure consumption with the Koch lymph and his complete failure to do so, the people have been looking for some discovery which would prove an absolute, certain cure for that dread disease. Over a quarter of a century ago Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, put in a claim for a medicine, which he had discovered and used, in his extensive practice, that would cure ninety-eight per cent. of all cases of consumption when taken in all its early stages. Time has proved that his assertion was based on facts gained from experience. His "Golden Medical Discovery" has cured many thousand people in all parts of the world, and Dr. Pierce invites all interested to send to him for a free book which gives the names, addresses and photographs of many prominent people who have willingly testified to the marvelous curative properties of his "Golden Medical Discovery." He has also written a Book of 160 pages on "Diseases of the Respiratory Organs," which treats of all Throat, Bronchial and Lung diseases, also Asthma and Catarrh, that will be mailed by the World's Dispensary Medical Association of Buffalo, N.Y., on receipt of six cents in stamps, to pay postage.

Consumption, as most everybody knows, is first manifested by feeble vitality, loss of strength, emaciation; then local symptoms soon develop, as cough, difficult breathing, or bleeding from lungs, when investigation proves that tubercular deposits have formed in the lungs. It is earnestly advised that the "Discovery" be taken early and the latter stages of the disease can thereby be easily avoided.

To build up solid flesh and strength after the grip, pneumonia, ("lung fever"), exhausting fevers, and other prostrating diseases, it has no equal. It does not make fat like cod liver oil and its nasty compounds, but, solid, wholesome flesh.

The Peans of Rowdyism.

I have just been wading through several printed collections of music hall songs and find it impossible to convey, without pages of quotation, any adequate idea of the rank imbecility that characterizes them, almost without exception. It would perhaps be unfair to dwell on their metrical deficiencies. There seems to be no reason why verses for music should not be written in meter. But the rhymers may retort that there is no reason why they should. What is most striking is the utter poverty and monotony of their topics, the sordidness of their view of life, the baseness of their ideals, the insincerity of their enthusiasm, the total absence of healthy passion or indignation and even of genuine, unforced gaiety or sentiment. The humor is that of the mock valentine, their paths that of the pavement artist.

They pass from praises of debauchery and peans of rowdyism to grimy caricatures of the sordidness of lower middle class life, inapt jocosities on love and marriage, birth and death and patently insincere criticisms on public events. Their philosophy is a mean and shallow knowingsness, their patriotism is cheap and empty bluster. The worship of the ugly, which leads the most popular "comedians" to assume a red nose when they have it not and trick themselves out, with neither rhyme nor reason, in garments many sizes too large for them, inspires the literature of the music hall no less than its physical presentations.—Contemporary Review.

The Stairs an Afterthought.

The old story about building a house and forgetting the staircase, which has probably been worked off at the expense of every young architect who has been born since staircases were invented, was actually realized in the case of Montagu House, which the late dowager Duchess of Buccleuch made famous by her entertainments. When the house was nearly finished, it was discovered that no means of reaching the upper floors had been provided, and the grand staircase which had to be added considerably marred the arrangements of the mansion.—London Figure.

WE WANT TO TELL YOU

Why Your Back is Lame—Why it Aches and Pains, and How to Cure It.

Do you know what it is to have a back that is never free from aches and constant pain, a lame back, a sore back, an aching back, in fact, a back that makes your life a burden? What have you done for it? And does it still keep you from the happiness that perfect health brings to all? We know full well if such is your condition a cure for it will be a blessing you no doubt desire. Plasters won't do it, but may assist in bringing strength. Liniment won't do it; for, while it may give temporary relief, it does not reach the cause. The cause, there's the point; there's where to make the attack. Most backaches come from disordered kidneys, therefore you must correct their action if you would be cured. Read the following from D. D. Cook, whose address is No. 18 Michigan Street, Grand Rapids. He says:—

"I have used Doan's Kidney Pills and wish to say it is a truly great medicine. Thirty years ago I had nervous prostration while in the army, where I served for over four years. I think it was during this service that the seeds were sown which have caused all my trouble. Severe bilious attacks bothered me, and at such times my kidneys were worse. It is almost impossible to describe the pain which so often lamed me. I have been so lame that to stand up after I had been sitting down required a great exertion. Walking was at times an impossibility, even at night I did not rest, being forced to get up during the night. I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills and wondered if they could make an almost lame man well. I got some, and soon after taking them began to feel their good effects. I used them for some time, my lameness all left me and I have not felt it since. Doan's Kidney Pills have done me an inestimable amount of good."

For sale by all dealers, price 50 cents. Mailed by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S. Remember the name, Doan's, and take no other.

THE HEROIC JOSHUA.

HOW HE COMMANDED THE SUN TO STAND STILL.

Rev. Dr. Talmage Preaches Another Sermon of Surpassing Interest and Power. The Greatest Soldier of All Time—The Gallant Thirteenth.

BROOKLYN, May 26.—In the Emory Memorial church a large audience assembled this evening to listen to the annual sermon of Chaplain T. De Witt Talmage of the Thirteenth regiment, N. G. S. N. Y. The members of the regiment occupied the body of the church. Dr. Talmage chose for his subject "The Greatest Soldier of All Time," the text being Joshua 1, 5, "There shall not any man be able to stand before thee all the days of thy life."

The "gallant Thirteenth," as this regiment is generally and appropriately called, has gathered tonight for the worship of God and to hear the annual sermon. And first I look with hearty salutation into the faces of the veterans, who, though now not in active service, have the same patriotic and military enthusiasm which characterized them when, in 1863, they bade farewell to home and loved ones and started for the field and risked all they held dear on earth for the re-establishment of the falling United States government. "All that a man hath will he give for his life," and you showed yourselves willing to give your lives. We hail you! We thank you! We bless you, the veterans of the Thirteenth. Nothing can ever rob you of the honor of having been soldiers in one of the most tremendous wars of all history, a war with Grant and Sherman and Hancock and Sheridan and Farragut on one side, and Lee and Stonewall Jackson and Longstreet and Johnston on the other.

As in Greek assemblages, when speakers would rouse the audience, they shouted "Marathon!" so if I wanted to stir you to acclamation I would only need to speak the words, "Lookout Mountain," "Chancellorsville," "Gettysburg." And through the passage of years you are forever free from duty of enlistment, if European nations should too easily and too quickly forget the Monroe doctrine and set aggressive foot upon this continent I think your ankles would be supple again, and your arms would grow strong again, and your eyes would be keen enough to follow the stars of the old flag wherever they might lead.

A Great Fighter. And next I greet the colonel and his staff, and all the officers and men of this regiment. It has been an eventful year in your history. If never before, Brooklyn appreciates something of the value of its armories, and the importance of the men who there drill for the defense and safety of the city. The blessing of God be upon all of you, my comrades of the Thirteenth regiment! And looking about for a subject that might be most helpful and inspiring for you, and our veterans here assembled, and the citizens gathered tonight with their good wishes, I have concluded to hold up before you the greatest soldier of all time—Joshua, the hero of my text.

He was a magnificent fighter, but he always fought on the right side, and he never fought unless God told him to fight. In my text he gets his military equipment and one would think it must have been plumed helmet for the brow, greaves of brass for the feet, habergeon for the breast. "There shall not any man be able to stand before thee all the days of thy life." "Oh," you say, "anybody could have courage with such a backing up as that." Why, my friends, I have to tell you that the God of the universe and the Chieftain of eternity promises to do just as much for us as for him. All the resources of eternity are pledged in our behalf, if we go out in the service of God, and no more than that was offered to Joshua. God fulfilled this promise of my text, although Joshua's first battle was with the spring freshet, and the next with a stone wall, and the next leading on a regiment of whipped cowards, and the next battle against darkness, wheeling the sun and the moon into his battalion, and the last against the king of terrors, death—five great victories.

For the most part, when the general of an army starts out in a conflict he would like to have a small battle in order that he may get his courage up and he may rally his troops and get them drilled for greater conflicts, but this first undertaking of Joshua was greater than the leveling of Fort Pulaski, or the thundering down of Gibraltar, or the overthrow of the Bastille. It was the crossing of the Jordan at the time of the spring freshet. The snows of Mount Lebanon had just been melting, and they poured down into the valley, and the whole valley was a raging torrent. So the Canaanites stand on one bank, and they look across and see Joshua and the Israelites, and they laugh and say: "Aha! aha! They cannot disturb us until the freshets fall. It is impossible for them to reach us." But after awhile they look across the water, and they see a movement in the army of Joshua. They say: "What's the matter now? Why, there must be a panic among these troops, and they are going to fly, or perhaps they are going to try to march across the river Jordan. Joshua is a lunatic." But Joshua, the chieftain of the text, looks at his army and cries, "Forward, march!" and they start for the bank of the Jordan.

Sure of the Promise. One mile ahead go two priests, carrying a glittering box 4 feet long and 2 feet wide. It is the ark of the covenant. And they come down, and no sooner do they just touch the rim of the water with their feet than by an almighty fiat Jordan parts. The army of Joshua marches right on without getting their feet wet, over the bottom of the river, a path of chalk and broken shells and pebbles, until they get to the other bank. Then they lay hold of the oleanders and tamarisks and willows and pull themselves up a bank 30 or 40 feet high, and having gained the other bank they clap their shields and their cymbals and sing the praises of the God of Joshua.

But no sooner have they reached the bank than the waters begin to dash and roar, and with a terrific rush they break loose from their strange anchorage. Out yonder they have stopped; 30 miles up yonder they halted. On this side the waters roll off toward the salt sea. But as the hand of the Lord God is taken away from the thus uplifted waters—waters perhaps uplifted half a mile—as the Almighty hand is taken away those waters rush down, and some of the unbelieving Israelites say: "Alas, alas, what a misfortune! Why could not those waters have staid parted? Because perhaps we may want to go back. O Lord, we are engaged in a risky business. Those Canaanites may eat us up. How if we want to go back? Would it not have been a more complete miracle if the Lord had parted the waters to let us come through and kept them parted to let us go back if we are defeated?" My friends, God makes no provision for a Christian's retreat. He clears the path all the way to Canaan. To go back is to die. The same gatekeepers that swing back the amethystine and crystalline gate of the Jordan to let Israel pass through now swing shut the amethystine and crystalline gate of the Jordan to keep the Israelites from going back. I declare it in your hearing today, victory ahead, water 40 feet deep in the rear. Triumph ahead, Canaan ahead; behind you death and darkness and woe and hell. But you say, "Why didn't those Canaanites, when they had such a splendid chance—standing on the top of the bank 30 or 40 feet high—completely demolish those poor Israelites down in the river?" I will tell you why. God had made a promise, and he was going to keep it. "There shall not any man be able to stand before thee all the days of thy life."

The March. But this is no place for the host to stop. Joshua gives the command, "Forward, march!" In the distance there is a long grove of trees, and at the end of the grove is a city. It is a city of arbors, a city with walls seeming to reach to the heavens, to buttress the very sky. It is the great metropolis that commands the mountain pass. It is Jericho. That city was afterward captured by Pompey, and it was afterward captured by Herod the Great, and it was afterward captured by the Mohammedans, but this campaign the Lord plans. There shall be no swords, no shields, no battering ram. There shall be only one weapon of war, and that a ram's horn. The horn of the slain ram was sometimes taken, and holes were punctured in it, and then the musician would put the instrument to his lips, and he would run his fingers over this rude musical instrument, and make a great deal of sweet harmony for the people. That was the only kind of weapon. Seven priests were to take these rude rustic musical instruments, and they were to go around the city every day for six days—once a day for six days, and then on the seventh day they were to go around blowing these rude musical instruments seven times, and then at the close of the seventh blowing of the rams' horns on the seventh day the perforation of the whole scene was to be a shout, at which those great walls should tumble from cupstone to base.

The seven priests with the rude musical instruments pass all around the city walls on the first day, and a failure. Not so much as a piece of plaster broke loose from the wall, not so much as a loosened rock, not so much as a piece of mortar lost from its place. "There," say the unbelieving Israelites. "Didn't I tell you so? Why, those ministers are fools. The idea of going around the city with those musical instruments and expecting in that way to destroy it! Joshua has been spoiled. He thinks because he has overthrown and destroyed the spring freshet he can overthrow the stone wall. Why, it is not philosophic. Don't you see there is no relation between the blowing of these musical instruments and the knocking down of the wall? It isn't philosophic."

And I suppose there were many wiseacres who stood with their brows knitted, and with the forefinger of the right hand to the forehead of the left hand, arguing it all out and showing it was not possible that such a cause should produce such an effect. And I suppose that night in the encampment there was plenty of philosophy and caricature, and if Joshua had been nominated for any high military position he would not have got many votes. Joshua's creek was down. The second day, the priests, blowing the musical instruments, go around the city, and a failure. Third day, and a failure; fourth day, and a failure; fifth day, and a failure; sixth day, and a failure. The seventh day comes, the climacteric day. Joshua is up early in the morning and examines the troops, walks all around about, looks at the city wall. The priests start to make the circuit of the city. They go all around once, all around twice, three times, four times, five times, six times, seven times, and a failure.

The Shout at the Fall. There is only one more thing to do, and that is to utter a great shout. I see the Israelitish army straightening themselves up, filling their lungs for a vociferation such as was never heard before and never heard after. Joshua feels that the hour has come, and he cries out to his host, "Shout! for the Lord hath given you the city!" All the people begin to cry: "Down, Jericho! Down, Jericho!" And the long line of solid masonry begins to quiver and to move and to rock. Stand from under! She falls! Crash go the walls, the temples, the towers, the palaces! The air is blackened with the dust. The huzzas of the victorious Israelites and the groan of the conquered Canaanites commingle, and Joshua, standing there in the debris of the wall, hears a voice saying, "There shall not any man be able to stand before thee all the days of thy life." But Joshua's troops may not halt here. The command is, "Forward, march!"

There is the city of Ai. It must be taken. How shall it be taken? A scouting party comes back and says: "Joshua, we can do that without you. It is going to be a very easy job. You just stay here while we go and capture it." They march with a small regiment in front of that city. The men of Ai look at them and give one yell, and the Israelites run like reindeer. The northern troops at Bull Run did not make such rapid time as these Israelites with the Canaanites after them. They never cut such a sorry figure as when they were on the retreat. Anybody that goes out in the battles of God with only half a force, instead of your taking the men of Ai, the men of Ai will take you. Look at the church of God on the retreat. The Borsonian cannibals ate up Munson, the missionary. "Fall back," said a great many Christian people. "Fall back, O church of God! Borneo will never be taken. Don't you see the Borsonian cannibals have eaten up Munson, the missionary?" Tyn-dall delivers his lectures at the University of Glasgow, and a great many good people say: "Fall back, O church of God! Don't you see that Christian philosophy is going to be overcome by worldly philosophy? Fall back!" Geology plunges its crowbar into the mountains, and there are a great many people who say: "Scientific investigation is going to overthrow the Mosaic account of the creation. Fall back!" Friends of God have never any right to fall back.

Joshua falls on his face in chagrin. It is the only time you ever see the back of his head. He falls on his face and begins to whine, and he says: "O Lord God, wherefore hast thou at all brought this people over Jordan to deliver us into the hand of the Amorites to destroy us? Would to God we had been content and dwelt on the other side of Jordan! For the Canaanites and all the inhabitants of the land shall hear of it, and shall envoir us round and cut off our name from the earth."

I am very glad Joshua said that. Before it seemed as if he were a supernatural being, and therefore could not be an example to us, but I find he is a man, he is only a man. Just as sometimes you find a man under severe opposition, or in a bad state of physical health, or worn out with overwork, lying down and sighing about everything being defeated, I am encouraged when I hear this cry of Joshua as he lies in the dust.

The Retreat of the Enemy. God comes and rouses him. How does he rouse him? By complimentary apostrophe? No. He says: "Get thee up. Wherefore liest thou upon thy face?" Joshua rises, and I warrant you, with a mortified look. But his old courage comes back. The fact was that was not his battle. If he had been in it, he would have gone on to victory. He gathers his troops around him and says: "Now let us go up and capture the city of Ai. Let us go up right away."

They march on. He puts the majority of the troops behind a ledge of rocks in the night, and then he sends a comparatively small battalion up in front of the city. The men of Ai come out with a shout. This battalion in strategem fall back and fall back, and when all the men of Ai have left the city and are in pursuit of this scattered or seemingly scattered battalion Joshua stands on a rock. I see his locks flying in the wind as he points his spear toward the doomed city, and that is the signal. The men rush out from behind the rocks and take the city, and it is put to the torch, and then these Israelites, in the city march loose, and the flying battalion of Israelites return, and between these two waves of Israelitish prowess the men of Ai are destroyed, and the Israelites gain the victory, and while I see the curling smoke of that destroyed city on the sky, and while I hear the huzzas of the Israelites and the groan of the Canaanites, Joshua hears something louder than it all, ringing and echoing through his soul, "There shall not any man be able to stand before thee all the days of thy life."

But this is no place for the host of Joshua to stop. "Forward, march!" cries Joshua to the troops. There is the city of Gibeon. It has put itself under the protection of Joshua. They sent word: "There are five kings after us. Send troops quick. Send us help right away." Joshua has a three days' march more than double quick. On the morning of the third day he is before the enemy. There are two long lines of battle. The battle opens with great slaughter, but the Canaanites soon discover something. They say: "That is Joshua. That is the man who conquered the spring freshet and knocked down the stone wall and destroyed the city of Ai. There is no use fighting." And they sound a retreat, and as they begin to retreat Joshua and his host spring upon them like a panther, pursuing them over the rocks, and as these Canaanites, with sprained ankles and gashed foreheads, retreat the catapults of the sky pour a volley of hailstones into the valley, and all the artillery of the heavens with bullets of iron pounds the Canaanites against the ledges of Beth-horon.

Joshua's Strange Command. "Oh," says Joshua, "this is surely a victory!" "But do you not see the sun is going down? Those Amorites are going to get away after all, and they will come up some other time and bother us, and perhaps destroy us." See, the sun is going down. Oh, for a longer day than has ever been seen in this climate! What is the matter with Joshua? Has he fallen in an apoplectic fit? No. He is in prayer. Look out when a good man makes the Lord his ally. Joshua raises his face, radiant with prayer, and looks at the descending sun over Gibeon and at the faint crescent of the moon, for you know the queen of the night sometimes will linger around the palaces of the day. Putting one hand at the descending sun and the other hand at the faint crescent of the moon, in the name of that God who shaped the worlds and moves the worlds, he cries, "Sun, stand thou still upon Gibeon, and thou, moon, in the valley of Ajalon." And they stood still. Whether it was by refraction of the sun's rays or by the stopping of the whole planetary system I do not know and do not care. I leave it to the Christian scientists and the infidel scientists to settle that question, while I tell you I have seen the same thing. "What," say you, "not the sun standing still?" Yes. The same miracle is performed nowadays. The wicked do not live out half their day, and the sun sets at noon. But let a man start out and battle for God, and the truth, and against sin, and the day of his usefulness is prolonged and prolonged and prolonged.

John Summerfield was a consumptive Methodist. He looked fearfully white, I am told, as he stood in old Sands Street church in this city preaching Christ and when he stood on the anniversary platform in New York pleading for the Bible until unusual and unknown glories rolled forth from that book. When he was dying, his pillow was brushed with the wings of the angel from the skies, the messenger that God sent down. Did John Summerfield's sun set? Did John Summerfield's day end? Oh, no! He lives on in his burning utterance in behalf of the Christian church. The sun stood still.

Robert McChesney was a consumptive Presbyterian. It was said when he preached he coughed so it seemed as if he would never preach again. His name is fragrant in all Christendom—that name mightier today than was ever his living presence. He lived to preach the gospel in Aberdeen, Edinburgh and Dundee, but he went away very early. He preached himself into the grave. Has Robert McChesney's sun set? Is Robert McChesney's day ended? Oh, no! His dying delirium was filled with prayer, and when he lifted his hand to pronounce the benediction upon his family and the benediction upon his country he seemed to say: "I cannot die now. I want to live on and on. I want to start an influence for the church that will never cease. I am only 30 years of age. Sun of my Christian ministry, stand still over Scotland." And it stood still.

The Dead Hero. But it is time for Joshua to go home. He is 110 years old. Washington went down the Potomac, and at Mount Vernon closed his days. Wellington died peacefully at Apsley House. Now, where shall Joshua rest? Why, he is to have his greatest battle now. After 110 years he has to meet a king who has more subjects than all the present population of the earth, his throne a pyramid of skulls, his parterre the graveyards and the cemeteries of the world, his chariot the world's hearse—the king of terrors. But if this is Joshua's greatest battle it is going to be Joshua's greatest victory. He gathers his friends around him and gives his valedictory, and it is full of reminiscence. Young men tell what they are going to do. Old men tell what they have done.

And as you have heard a grandfather or a great-grandfather, seated by the evening fire, tell of Monmouth or Yorktown and then lift the crutch or staff as though it were a musket to fight and show how the old battles were won, so Joshua gathers his friends around his dying couch, and he tells them the story of what he has been through, and as he lies there, his white locks snowing down on his wrinkled forehead, I wonder if God has kept his promise all the way through—the promise of the text. As he lies there he tells the story one, two or three times—you have heard old people tell a story two or three times over—and he answers: "I go the way of all the earth, and not one word of the promise has failed, not one word thereof has failed. All has come to pass; not one word thereof has failed." And then he turns to his family, as a dying parent will, and says: "Choose now whom you will serve—the God of Israel or the God of the Amorites. As for me and my house, we will serve the Lord." A dying parent cannot be reckless or thoughtless in regard to his children. Consent to part with them at the door of the tomb we cannot. By the cradle in which their infancy was rocked, by the bosom on which they first lay, by the blood of the Covenant, by the God of Joshua, it shall not be. We will not part. We cannot part. Jehovah Jireh, we take thee at thy promise, "I will be a God to thee and thy seed after thee."

Dead, the old chieftain must be laid out. Handle him very gently. That sacred body is over 110 years of age. Lay him out. Stretch out those feet that walked dry shod the parted Jordan. Close those lips which helped blow the blast at which the walls of Jericho fell. Fold the arm that lifted the spear toward the doomed city of Ai. Fold it right over the heart that exulted when the five kings fell. But where shall we get the burnished granite for the headstone and the footstone? I bethink myself now. I imagine that for the head it shall be the sun that stood still upon Gibeon, and for the foot the moon that stood still in the valley of Ajalon.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

MOTHERS, Do You Know that Paregoric, Bateman's Drops, Godfrey's Cordial, many so-called Soothing Syrups, and most remedies for children are composed of opium or morphine?

Do You Know that opium and morphine are stupefying narcotic poisons?

Do You Know that in most countries druggists are not permitted to sell narcotics without labeling them poisons?

Do You Know that you should not permit any medicine to be given your child unless you or your physician know of what it is composed?

Do You Know that Castoria is a purely vegetable preparation, and that a list of its ingredients is published with every bottle?

Do You Know that Castoria is the prescription of the famous Dr. Samuel Pitcher. That it has been in use for nearly thirty years, and that more Castoria is now sold than of all other remedies for children combined?

Do You Know that the Patent Office Department of the United States, and of other countries, have issued exclusive right to Dr. Pitcher and his assigns to use the word "Castoria" and its formula, and that to imitate them is a state prison offense?

Do You Know that one of the reasons for granting this government protection was because Castoria had been proven to be absolutely harmless?

Do You Know that 35 average doses of Castoria are furnished for 35 cents, or one cent a dose?

Do You Know that when possessed of this perfect preparation, your children may be kept well, and that you may have unbroken rest?

Well, these things are worth knowing. They are facts.

The fac-simile signature of Chas. H. Pitcher is on every wrapper.

WHEAT GOES UP.

Advances Five Cents at a Single Plunge and Speculators Danced in Delight.

Chicago, May 25.—Wheat jumped up five cents a bushel in less than five minutes today. The advance was from 74¢ and was the result of the United States weather bureau predictions of widespread killing frosts tonight. The news of the prediction spread like lightning and a bulge followed instantly where the market was slumping badly.

As the values went up the crowd grew excited and when the prediction became generally known it went wild. July wheat did not stop until it had touched 79¢ and the 500 farmers in the gallery who had held on to their wheat through good and through evil report went dancing.

But the opportunity to unload at a big profit was too good to be resisted by the professional longs and their sales broke the market to 78½.

Horsebreeders! Attention! ERWIN, 10,220.

Will make the season of 1895 at his home, Zeeland, Mich.

In order to place his service within reach of all and on a hard times basis, and meet our patrons on the most liberal terms, we have placed his service fee at the unparalleled low price of $10.00 for this season. Erwin is grandly gaited for either road or track purposes. His progeny are uniformly large, possessing good bone, muscle and a kind disposition, with exceptionally fine finish, style and action. As to his breeding the following partial pedigree will convince the most critical:

ERWIN is sired by GOEBEL, 8,556; sire of TREVOR, 2,25; AFRITE, 2,21. His grandsire is the great RED WILKS, sire of RALPH WILKS, 2,06; RED BELL, 2,11; PRINCE WILKS, 2,14; and the dams of MEMBRINO MAID, 2,15; EVANGELINE, 2,19; MCGREGOR WILKS, 2,21; and twenty-seven other speed-producing dams.

1st DAM—STRATHINA, by the great broodmare sire, STRATHMORE, 408; sire of STRATHSO, 2,13; LUTIE STRATHMORE, 2,15; SANTA CLAUS, 2,17; and the dams of C. F. CLAY, 2,18; EMINENCE, 2,18; SEMICOLON, 2,19.

2nd DAM—WHITEFOOT, by CLARK CHIEF, 89; sire of CROXIE, 2,19; WOODFORD CHIEF, 2,21; K'Y PRINCE, (with 17 in 2,30 list), sire of dams of MARTHA WILKS, 2,08; PHALLAS, 2,13; MAJOLICA, 2,15.

3rd DAM—JOSIE ANDERSON, by JOE DOWNING, 710; sire of DICK JAMISON, 2,20; ABE DOWNING, 2,60; which is the sire of PAT DOWNING, 2,13; PENANT, 2,15; CHRONOMETOR, 2,15; and the dams of SHARPER, 2,19; ELLA WILKS, 2,20.

With so remarkably fine breeding in the most fashionable lines of the day, we are confident that ERWIN will more than fulfill all we claim for him as a sire and his progeny will find a ready market at highly paying prices in the near future.

Thanking our patrons for their past favors, we extend a cordial invitation to you and to the breeding and horse loving public to come and examine this horse and his colts for themselves and you will be convinced.

All Correspondence will receive prompt attention!

YOURS RESPECTFULLY,

C. BOONE, Zeeland, Mich.

S. COBURN, New Holland, Mich.

Owing to the large amount of water being used at present it has been found necessary to carry out the rules governing it in the strictest manner possible. Supt. Wm. J. Trott informs us that on Wednesday thirteen water consumers were shut off owing to non-observance of the rules and there are more to follow. It is an injustice to place the blame upon Mr. Trott as it is his duty to see that the rules are properly enforced, being engaged for that purpose. Every consumer will notice from the rules that the hours for sprinkling lawns and gardens is from 5:30 to 8 a. m. and from 6 to 8 p. m., while the hours for sprinkling sidewalks on business streets are from 7 to 8 a. m. and from 5 to 7 p. m. If these rules are observed, consumers will experience no trouble.

"The Confederate Spy."
"The Confederate Spy," Prof. W. E. Stedman's new military drama, is a good one in plot and detail.—Berrien County Record.

Those who failed to attend the presentation of "The Confederate Spy" at the G. A. R. Hall on Saturday evening missed one of the most enjoyable entertainments ever given here.—Coloma Courier.

The Wayland Globe in speaking of the "Confederate Spy" says: "Mr. Stedman, the author of the play, is too well known to require a word of praise; sufficient to say he was 'a host in himself,' and in the character of the 'Drafted Dutchman' he was greeted with shouts of laughter."
Mr. Stedman, as "Sockery Schneidbecker the Dutch recruit" what was drafted," kept the audience laughing heartily whenever he appeared, which was often and always at the right time. The home talent acted their parts well, and the play as presented here gave entire satisfaction. Come again, Mr. Stedman.—Three Oaks Sun.

Full off with starch and glass serene,
The linen collar starts the morn;
Full off at noontime it is seen
All wilted, wrinkled and forlorn.

That's what you must expect of such a collar; it's the linen of it. The stand-up collars won't stand up, and the turn-down collars will wilt down. The easy, cheap, and pleasant way out of this is to wear "CELLULOID" COLLARS AND CUFFS. These goods are made by covering linen collars or cuffs on both sides with "CELLULOID," thus making them strong and durable, and waterproof, not affected by heat or moisture. There are no other waterproof goods made this way, consequently none that can wear so well. When soiled simply wipe them off with a wet cloth. Every piece of the genuine is stamped like this:

Insist upon goods so marked if you expect full satisfaction, and if your dealer does not keep them, send direct to us enclosing amount and we will mail sample. State size, and whether a stand-up or turned-down collar is wanted. Collars 25c. each. Cuffs 50c. pair.
